

Newsletter No. 4 Thursday 28th September 2023

Photo Days - Next Tuesday and Wednesday we will have the photographer in school to take individual and sibling group photos.

Sibling photos will be taken first thing on Tuesday, those children with PE on that day should come to school in uniform and bring in PE kit to change into.

- Reception will not need their PE kit and will have individual photos taken on Tuesday.
- All other year groups will have their individual photos taken on the day they DO NOT have PE.

Peter J Murray - This week we were excited to welcome Peter J Murray to Haylands. Years 4, 5 and 6 were enthralled by his spooky tales and his captivating performance. On Wednesday, Peter returned to sign copies of his latest book 'Darker Side of Wight'. At the end of an extremely busy signing session he said that he was overwhelmed by the response of the pupils of Haylands and that he was really impressed by the engagement, enthusiasm and good behaviour of the children. Happy reading!

Book Fair - We will be holding the Scholastic Book Fair in school through the week beginning 9th October. Books will be available to browse and then purchase electronically with payment being made online. More details about where this will be based and how to access will be shared next week.

Secondary School Applications - All year 6 should now have received letters both on paper and electronically to inform them about making their child's Secondary School Application. To help make the right decision for your child there are lots of open evenings taking place across the island (info further down the newsletter). Please do make sure you make your application on time to avoid missing out on your school of choice. No automatic allocations will be provided, you MUST apply.

Appley Day is back this Sunday 1 October!

Tell your friends and family, pack up a picnic and head to the park for a day of celebrating this beautiful natural green space. From art and craft activities, to sea hikes, theatrical performances and even a guided bat walk in the evening, there's something to do for everyone this Appley Day.

Appley Day, Sunday 1 October 11am to 3pm, Appley Park and Beach, Ryde.

Online safety is when young people know who they can tell if they feel upset by something that has happened online.

Parents please contact your school to enquire attending their next e-safety workshop or have any concerns.

Age Restrictions on Social Media

It is against the law to be on social media sites under the age of 13!

The COPPA law or Children's Online Privacy Protection Act states that any organisations or people operating online services (including social media services) are not allowed to collect the personal information of anyone under the age of 13 without parental permission.

Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and Snapchat all require users to be at least 13 years old before they can create an account.

Creating a Facebook account with false information is a violation of Facebook's terms, including accounts registered for someone under 13.

The minimum age for WhatsApp is 16 years old. YouTube requires account holders to be aged 18 years and over.

Apps

Apps can be a positive place for young people to socialise with peers. Many enable instant messaging, social networking and image sharing.

Some, like YouTube, can also be a great creative outlet. But consider:

- Privacy settings and age relevance
- Talking to them about the content they share
- Discussing the consequences of sharing messages and images.

Instant Messaging

Instant Messaging is a great way to socialise and keep up to date with what's going on right now. However there is a risk of unsolicited contact. If your child is using messenger services you should:

- Look at the privacy settings
- Ensure they understand that they may be talking to people they don't know and the risks this brings
- Talk to them about what is and isn't appropriate to send.

Online Safety Guidance for Parents

Online spaces, games and media form a large part of life for young people growing up today. They offer platforms to connect with others and to learn.

Risks

Of course there are risks associated with being online, as there are with all aspects of life. These include:

- Exposure to inappropriate content
- Sharing too much personal information
- Connecting with harmful people and
- Spending unhealthy amounts of time online.

Have a conversation

One of the best ways to help young people stay safe online is to talk to them about what they do.

If you understand the situations they encounter you'll be better placed to offer them advice on how to deal with them.

Gaming

Gaming is fun but be aware that it can be all consuming. Some things to consider:

- Use the gaming consoles' safety settings
- Agree with your child how much time they can spend playing online
- Pay attention to the PEGI (age) ratings and what they mean
- Remember that some online games have inbuilt chat functions
- Be aware that your child might use servers or 3rd party applications to access interactive online communities.

Bullying

Remember, it's not the technology that's the problem, it's the bullies' behaviour. Support young people by:

- Talking about bullying issues
- Making sure young people know that they can turn to you for support
- Reporting any incidents - it will help your child and others too.

Live Streaming

Broadcasting online brings an instant thrill that can be addictive. Encourage young people to think about:

- Body image - talk to them about how they want to be perceived online and who their audience might be
- Privacy - how do they protect it? You can't edit something that is going out 'live'
- Age appropriate - is the site they're using appropriate for them? Most social media sites are aimed at 13 year olds and upwards. If not, is there a way to make it safer for them (e.g. YouTube Kids).
